Announcement to City of Houston Pharmacies

Mayor Annise Parker of the City of Houston is pleased to announce she has approved distribution of the Coast2Coast Rx free discount prescription card to all City of Houston area residents that need assistance with the cost of their prescription medications. Your pharmacy is a participating pharmacy for this card.

The City encourages participating pharmacies to act as distribution points for City residents. This way, a resident can obtain a card and fill his/her prescriptions at the same time. We are all aware that in these tough economic times, City residents will appreciate your efforts in helping them save some money!

The City of Houston is doing its part to help its residents save on their prescription costs and your cooperation in being a distribution point would certainly generate goodwill in the community.

We hope that your pharmacy will provide the card to any resident that needs assistance with the cost of his/her medication. Not only uninsured customers can benefit from the card, but residents with high deductibles, or whose plan may not cover certain drugs, may also receive some benefit. The City of Houston and its residents appreciate your participation in this effort.

Cards are available to residents online, at government offices and at libraries – so most residents will have the cards when they come to your pharmacy. However, in the circumstances that residents neglect to bring a card with them – your assistance in providing a card will help create loyalty with that resident.

The card also contains information for residents to obtain significant discounts on any of their lab and imaging tests.

Here is information you will need to process prescriptions for customers using this card:

Processor is either NetCard Systems or RxWest
BIN#: 008878
