1. INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this Handbook is to provide the supervisors of summer workers with an informational guide for addressing the most common areas related to the Summer Jobs project operated by Employment & Training Centers, Inc. (ETC) through Workforce Solutions. This Handbook provides the project rules, policies, and procedures, and answers some questions frequently asked by summer workers. You are required to read and abide by the handbook and we suggest you keep it in a convenient place for future reference. Read this information carefully and keep it accessible at all times. If you have any questions about this Handbook or the project, ask the Worksite Coordinator listed on the front cover for assistance or clarification.

The Gulf Coast Workforce Board has contracted with Unique HR to process payroll and serve as the employer of record. All summer workers are considered employed by Unique HR. The main contact number for the 2010 Summer Jobs project is 1-888-469-JOBS. The contact number for the ETC office is (713) 640 - 5677. ETC works in partnership with Unique HR and is authorized to hire, place and manage youth at your worksite.

Background

The mission of the 2010 Summer Jobs project is to provide meaningful work experiences for youth and young adults 16 to 24 years of age.

Project Objectives

We hope from this project summer workers will gain the following:

- Useful work experience and skills
- An opportunity to decide what type of work they enjoy, and the kind of training they need to pursue your future goals
- Encouragement to continue in school until completion
- Solid work experience for a resume and/or future job application
- Increased confidence through successfully holding a job
- The opportunity to interact and network with peers and professionals

Through participation in this project summer workers will gain valuable knowledge in the areas of personal development, career development and academic achievement.

Employment At-Will

Summer workers are not guaranteed employment for any specific duration. Both the summer worker and ETC on behalf of Unique HR have the right to terminate the employment relationship at any time with or without cause, notice or reason.

Equal Employment Opportunity

ETC and Unique HR provide equal employment opportunities to all workers and applicants without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, military status, or status as a Vietnam-era or special disabled veteran in accordance with applicable federal and state laws. In addition, ETC and Unique HR comply with applicable state and local laws governing nondiscrimination in employment in every location in which we operate. This policy applies to all terms and conditions of employment including, but not limited to, hiring, placement, promotion, termination, layoff, recall, transfer, leaves of absence, compensation, and training.

Nepotism

No summer worker may be supervised on a summer job work site by a member of his/her immediate family.

“Immediate family” means wife, husband, son, daughter, mother, father, brother, brother-in-law, sister, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, mother-in-law, father-in-law, grandparent, aunt, uncle, niece, nephew, step-parent and step-children.

Summer Jobs managing contractors will make every attempt to place summer workers at worksites where no family members work. If you discover an immediate family member has been placed under your supervision at a summer job worksite, please contact the Worksite Coordinator listed on the front of this handbook.

Americans with Disabilities Act

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires an employer to provide reasonable accommodations for individuals with disabilities. A reasonable accommodation is defined as a change in the work environment or in the performance of a job that allows that worker to perform the essential functions of their position more effectively without causing undue hardship to Employment & Training Centers Inc.

ETC and Unique HR are Equal Employment Opportunity employers and fully comply with the ADA. If a summer worker feels they require a reasonable accommodation, they should be instructed to inform the Worksite Coordinator immediately. We will promptly respond and work with them to determine the most appropriate action.

Whistleblower Policy

A whistleblower as defined by this policy is a summer worker who reports an activity that he/she considers to be illegal or dishonest. The whistleblower is not responsible for investigating the activity or for determining fault or corrective measures; appropriate management officials are charged with these responsibilities. Examples of illegal or dishonest activities are violations of federal, state or local laws; billing for services not performed or for goods not delivered; and other fraudulent financial reporting.

If a worker has knowledge of or a concern of illegal or dishonest fraudulent activity, the worker is to contact his or her Worksite Coordinator or the main ETC office. The worker must exercise sound judgment to avoid baseless allegations. A worker who intentionally files a false report of wrongdoing will be subject to discipline up to and including termination.

ETC and the worksite will not retaliate against a whistleblower. The right of a whistleblower for protection against retaliation does not include immunity for any personal wrongdoing that is alleged and investigated. All reports of illegal and dishonest activities will be promptly submitted to the Human Resources Department, which will in turn oversee any investigation or corrective action. Workers with any questions regarding this policy should contact the assigned Worksite Coordinator.

Additional Information

Worksite supervisors must certify that their wages are not paid with federal funding in order to qualify as a worksite.

2. SUMMER WORKER RESPONSIBILITIES

Summer workers must understand and adhere to their responsibilities and duties while participating in the project. All job duties will be explained at their worksites by the supervisor on the first day of work. Summer workers will receive a detailed job description and the name and contact information for their supervisor and assigned Worksite Coordinator.

Here are some of the summer workers' basic responsibilities:

- To report to their assigned worksite on the designated start date at the appropriate time
- To always have proper uniform and any required safety equipment or materials
- To be present on each scheduled work day
- Observe their assigned work schedule and be on time every day
- Notify their Worksite Coordinator and direct supervisor if they will be late or absent prior to their start time
- To participate in all activities with a positive attitude
- To listen and make sure they understand each assignment and follow directions
- To apply themselves to all activities
- To keep busy at all times with assigned work
- To complete each assignment and follow directions
- To show initiative and enthusiasm in all assignments
- To conduct themselves in a manner that is honest and trustworthy
- To know their supervisor's name and Managing Contractor Worksite Coordinator's name and telephone number, and to keep this information accessible.
- To obey all rules and regulations set forth by this project
- To accurately reflect the hours they have worked to receive a paycheck.
- Be accountable for their actions
- Failure to report to work by the third working day will result in termination and the job will be reassigned to another person
- Take at least a 30 minute break when working more than four hours per day; request additional breaks when working conditions are strenuous (such as working outside or heavy lifting)
- Avoid working more hours than the assigned schedule; notify a supervisor should this become possible
- Lastly, each summer worker's work and behavior are direct reflections of your company or organization – the worker should always strive to do his or her best.
- Clock in and out each day upon arrival and at the end of the day
- Incidents or accidents should be reported to Lorie Copus or Bridget Johnson at 1 (800) 824 - 8367.

Summer workers must never be asked to perform work at someone's home or personal business.

3. CODE OF CONDUCT

Summer workers of this project are expected to accept certain responsibilities, follow acceptable business etiquette in matters of conduct, and exhibit a high degree of integrity at all times. This not only involves sincere respect for the rights and feelings of others, but also demands that they refrain from any behavior that might be harmful to themselves, their co-workers and supervisors, or that might be Summer workers' conduct reflects on the project. As a result, they are encouraged to observe the highest standards of professionalism at all times.

Types of behavior and conduct that the project considers inappropriate and may result in immediate termination from the project include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Falsifying time and attendance records
- Excessive absenteeism or tardiness
- Excessive, unnecessary, or unauthorized use of property and supplies, particularly for personal purposes
- Reporting to work under the influence of drugs or alcohol and/or the illegal manufacture, possession, use, sale, distribution or transportation of drugs
- Fighting or using obscene, abusive, or threatening language or gestures
- Theft of property from co-workers or the worksite
- Unauthorized possession of firearms or other weapons on worksites
- Disregarding safety or security regulations
- Excessive use of cell phone, which should be turned off during working hours
- Insubordination (not following instructions)

Any such behaviors or incidents should be immediately discussed with the Worksite Coordinator in order to determine the appropriate course of action.

Teasing and Bullying (Harassment)

Unkind behavior in the form of teasing and/or bullying will not be tolerated and may be considered harassment. Ensure there is respect in the workplace. Behavior which perpetuates a hostile environment will not be tolerated. Engaging in this type of activity can lead to the summer worker's immediate termination from the project.

Should a summer worker's performance, work habits, overall attitude, conduct or demeanor become unsatisfactory based on violations either of the above or of any other project policies, rules or regulations, they will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Any such behaviors or incidents should be immediately discussed with the Worksite Coordinator in order to determine the appropriate course of action.

4. DRESS CODE

ETC and Workforce Solutions are requiring all summer workers participating in the project to dress in a professional manner as defined by their assigned worksite. Their dress and grooming should be appropriate to the job performed and meet reasonable employer expectations.

Here are some general tips given to summer workers.

- Comply with uniform policy where required
- Pants should sit at natural waistline and should be dark colored or khaki pants
- Skirts should reach knee length
- Avoid capri pants, shorts or short skirts
- Tops should extend past the beltline and not be transparent
- Belts are recommended
- IDs must be worn at all times
- Clothing must be clean and pressed
- No t-shirts with artwork or messages
- No torn, cut or ripped jeans
- Hosiery and/or socks must be worn
- Hair should be clean and arranged appropriately
- Jewelry should be suitable to the work environment and not oversized or noisy
- Sunglasses, hats and headwear cannot be worn inside buildings unless part of the uniform

Absolutely no shorts, no low cut tops or dresses, no revealing or tight fitting clothes. Consider that additional or more specific policies may be required at assigned worksites.

Violations of the dress code should be addressed immediately and brought to the attention of the Worksite Coordinator.

5. SUMMER WORKER SCHEDULES

Summer workers are assigned a schedule based on availability of individuals, funds, and worksites. No changes may be made to established schedules without prior approval from ETC.

Absolutely no overtime should be worked by summer workers. In the event that a summer worker would reach 40 hours in a work week, defined as Sunday – Friday, the site supervisor should immediately send the worker home and notify the worksite coordinator.

Summer workers are required to take at least a 30 minute unpaid break for every four consecutive hours worked.

Summer workers will be assigned a designated worksite and schedule. They must adhere to that schedule. No summer worker is allowed to work overtime. A copy of the assigned worksite profile will
Summer workers' assigned work schedules should not be altered with prior approval from ETC.

6. ATTENDANCE POLICY

All youth and young adults are expected to attend every scheduled workday and to arrive on time. Continued tardiness and absences will be cause for termination from the project. Of course, there may be times when attendance is impossible due to extenuating circumstances. In such cases, summer workers have been instructed to contact their direct supervisor and Worksite Coordinator with an explanation of why they will not be reporting to work and their estimated return. Summer workers will only be paid for work that they actually perform, making it important to make note of such occurrences.

Sick Leave and Vacation

There are no provisions for sick leave or vacation time. Advanced written notice or a telephone call is expected on days summer workers cannot report to work. Absences should occur only in extreme emergencies, i.e., death in the family, illness or hospitalizations. Summer workers should notify their site supervisor of their tardiness or absence prior to their scheduled start time. More than 3 absences and/or instances of tardiness will be considered cause for dismissal from the project.

Inclement Weather Guidelines

Our projects or worksites may be closed in the event of inclement weather such as flooding, severe thunderstorms, hurricanes, and the like. These disasters must be announced in conjunction with closures or dangerous conditions on local radio and TV stations. When in doubt, contact the main ETC office or a Worksite Coordinator for more information.

Safety first. Summer workers should make an effort to get to work, but their safety is most important. They have been instructed to consider this when deciding whether to report to their worksite. Summer workers will not be paid for absences due to inclement weather. Summer workers are required to notify their supervisor and Worksite Coordinator if they cannot attend work.

7. TIME AND ATTENDANCE RECORDS

Each worksite must have access to the internet to allow summer workers' to report time in the electronic time system. Those instructions will be provided to you as well as the summer workers. In the event that internet or computer access is limited, summer workers may be asked to track their time worked on paper timesheets on a daily basis. This information will then be updated in the electronic records on Friday by close of business.

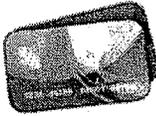

Worksite supervisors and Managing Contractor Worksite Coordinators will work together to verify the time entered by summer workers in order to make sure summer workers' time and attendance is recorded properly before approving/signing time sheets.

It is imperative that Summer Workers clock in and out when they arrive and leave – and that they do so via the internet-based, XTime electronic timekeeping system.

Forgetting to clock in or out will result in questioning of time worked and/or delay in payment. ETC Worksite Coordinators are also required to approve all time entries. Summer workers may not leave their worksite during regular working hours without prior approval from their Worksite Supervisor or Managing Contractor Worksite Coordinator.

Each pay period ends at the close of business on Friday. Payment will be received for the time worked. Any change in a summer worker's hours or job duties must be approved by ETC.

8. SUMMER WORKER PAYMENT OF WAGES

Workforce Solutions will provide summer workers with a choice of payment methods. Workers may choose to receive payment of summer job wages in a debit card or direct deposit to a bank account.

9. PARTICIPANT JOB-RELATED PROBLEMS

Should a summer worker have a job-related problem, they have been instructed to first contact their supervisor or Worksite Coordinator. A counselor may be assigned to help resolve the problem. If the problem is not resolved and they believe it is necessary to file a formal complaint, summer workers should follow the instructions outlined in the Grievance Procedures as stipulated in this handbook.

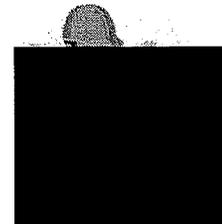

10. SAFETY IN THE WORKPLACE

Safety on the job is a shared responsibility. Supervisors are responsible for taking steps to ensure a safe work environment for the summer worker and summer workers are responsible for contributing to workplace safety.

Preventing accidents is everyone's job. Be alert and aware of everything around you and of what summer workers are engaged in. Anticipate and eliminate activities which may pose a threat to their safety or may cause an accident. Accidents usually occur because: (1) people engage in horseplay, (2) they do not follow safety instructions and; (3) because they believe that accidents only happen to others.

Accidents are not planned, or intended, but they can be prevented. Here are some ways you can prevent accidents:

- Obey all safety rules
- Follow safe job procedures
- Do not take short cuts
- Keep work and training areas clean and free from slipping and tripping hazards
- Use prescribed personal protective equipment and clothing
- Use care when lifting or carrying objects
- Observe restricted areas and warning signs
- Know emergency procedures
- Report unsafe conditions to your supervisor
- Follow the care prescribed by the attending physician when treated for an injury or illness.

By law, employers must provide:

- A safe and healthful workplace
- Safety and health training, in many situations, including providing information on chemicals that could be harmful to summer workers' health
- First aid and/or call for emergency assistance in the event of an illness or injury

Summer workers' Rights:

- Work without racial or sexual harassment and in an environment free of hostility
- Refuse to work if the job is immediately dangerous to their life or health

On-the-Job Injuries

In the event of injury on the job, summer workers or supervisors should IMMEDIATELY call the Unique HR at 1 (800) 824 - 8367 and ask for Lorie Copus or Bridget Johnson, regardless of the nature of the injury. The worksite coordinator listed on the cover of this handbook should also be notified. Supervisors and Worksite Coordinators will in turn ensure that the injured party receives proper and immediate medical attention. Supervisors are directly responsible for ensuring the situation is reported to ETC immediately.

11. MONITORING

As a publicly funded project, this project may be monitored by local, state or federal officials to ensure contract compliance. You may be asked questions about your participation in the project including learning/work activities, time and attendance, paychecks, and overall impression of the project.

Worksite Coordinators are expected to monitor summer workers on a regular basis to observe their progress and give feedback. They will work in coordination with supervisors in order to ensure project success.

12. FLSA AND CHILD LABOR LAW

The child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) are designed to protect the educational opportunities of summer workers and to prohibit their employment in jobs and conditions potentially detrimental to their health and well-being.

Once a summer worker reaches 18 year of age, he or she is no longer subject to the Federal child labor provisions. However, summer workers are still subject to restrictions related to the nature of their work based on funding regulations.

Under the FLSA, 16 and 17 year olds may be employed for unlimited hours in any occupation other than those declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor (see below).

Certain hazardous non-agricultural jobs, as determined by the Secretary of Labor, are not allowed for young workers below the age of 18. Generally summer workers may not work at jobs that involve:

Any driving by 16 year olds, certain driving for 17 year olds, and being an outside helper on a motor vehicle

- Power driven woodworking machines
- Power-driven hoisting equipment
- Power driven metal forming, punching, and shearing machines
- Power-driven machines
- Power-driven paper products machines, including balers and compactors
- Power driven circular saws, bank saws, and guillotine shears
- Wrecking, demolition, and ship breaking operations
- Roofing operations
- Excavation operations

Additionally, the work must be performed between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., except from June 1 through Labor Day, when the evening hours are extended to 9:00pm.

13. OTHER APPLICABLE LABOR LAWS AND INFORMATION

- The state of Texas does not require any paid rest periods for workers. In order to establish the best working environment, a schedule with a lunch break of 30 minutes has been assigned if workers spend 4 consecutive hours on the job.
- Summer workers under the age of 18 in the state of Texas do not need to obtain a work permit, but may be asked for an age certification, which can be requested from the Department of Labor.
- Minimum wage in Texas is equal to federal minimum wage. It is currently $7.25 per hour as of July 24, 2009. The 2010 Summer Jobs project is using $7.25 per hour for most positions, although wages may vary based on prevailing wages.
