Acknowledgements

Pretrial Services is part of a larger criminal justice community that works together to promote the administration of justice in Harris County. We would like to specifically recognize the Harris County Commissioners' Court, Harris County Management Services, the Pretrial Services Standing Committee, the District Criminal Courts, and the County Criminal Courts at Law as key contributors to a quality pretrial services program.

New Reports Introduced

Sex Offender on Appeal Bond

The department developed a report to identify persons convicted of a sexual offense who have appealed the conviction and posted bond. Once convicted a person must register as a sex offender even when the conviction is being appealed. The report helps ensure that all persons required to register as a sex offender meet that obligation. If the court deems it appropriate, Pretrial Services will provide supervision services during the appeal process.

Ignition Interlock Installation

The department receives a report that lists all defendants who make bond and are subject to certain provisions of 17.441 CCP, Ignition Interlock Device (IID) installation on all subsequent offenses under 49.04-49.06 (Felony DWI, Intoxicated Manslaughter and Intoxicated Assault). In December, the District Court judges voted to add an offense, Driving with a Child Under 15 as a Passenger (49.045). While an IID is not required, the report allows Pretrial to advise the court about a defendant's release so that the court can evaluate the need for IID installation. If the court orders the installation of the IID, the agency offers supervision services to monitor compliance.

STAR Drug Court Referral

The STAR Referral Report uses information from the Pretrial Defendant Report to identify possible candidates for the Harris Court Drug Court. The Defendant Report indicates whether the defendant wants substance abuse treatment. In 2003 the department interviewed over 2,000 defendants who were charged with a felony offence and requested drug treatment. ■

Pretrial Staff Support March of Dimes

Pretrial Services staff participated in the March of Dimes WalkAmerica held April 27, 2003.

Judge Robert Eckels visited with staff who stayed to enjoy the post-walk barbeque hosted by the judge's office.

Commissioner El Franco Lee presents Pretrial Services employee Scarlet Williams with an Honorary Scarlet Williams Day certificate celebrating her retirement after 25 years of service.

Pretrial Services Assists with Fair Defense Act Requirements

The Fair Defense Act sets specific time limits and requirements that the courts must follow regarding appointment of counsel for indigent defendants and for the determination of probable cause after a person's arrest.

When a defendant declines the initial pretrial interview or is arrested on a motion to revoke probation (MRP) warrant and subsequently requests appointed counsel, Pretrial Services prepares a modified report focusing on areas that assist the court in an indigency determination. Because the department automatically compiled 70,795 defendant reports, only 738 additional indigency-specific reports were needed for statute compliance.

Additionally, Pretrial Services assists all defendants who request appointed counsel during the Probable Cause Hearing in completing the indigency affidavit. Over half the defendants at the hearing request appointed counsel.

Another aspect of the Act requires that a court release a defendant on personal bond if no determination of probable cause has been made by the court or designated magistrate within 24 to 48 hours from arrest. In 2003, 96 defendants were released due to the statute and supervised by Pretrial Services. ■

Defendant Report Provides Information to Courts

Pretrial Officers at HPD complete criminal records checks for the Defendant Report.

Throughout the pretrial stage of a case, Pretrial Services (PTS) provides services that facilitate informed, accountable release and detention practices. The department begins the processes necessary to deliver timely, useful information within hours of an arrest with preparation of the Defendant Reports.

The Defendant Report begins with a defendant interview and includes a comprehensive criminal background check. A Pretrial Officer draws upon multiple information sources during report preparation and compiles the data into a profile of the defendant consisting of employment and residence information, detailed financial information, documentation of health issues, and both self-reported and official criminal history information.

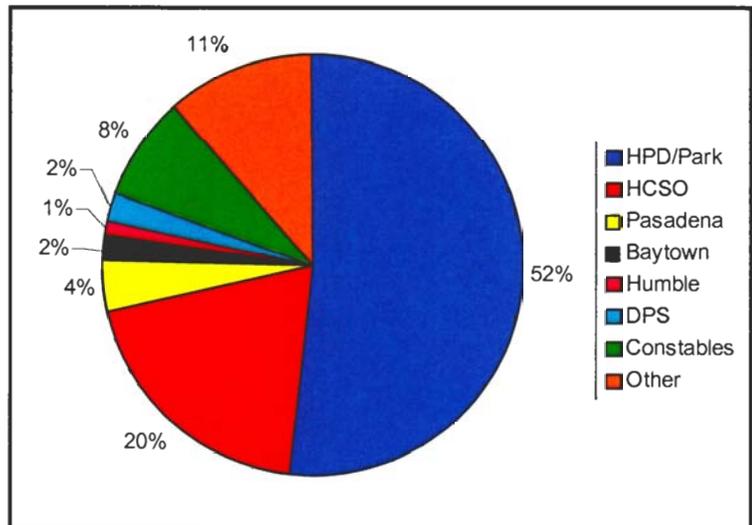

The Defendant Report is used for bail review at the Probable Cause Hearing and is delivered to the assigned court for defendants on the day's docket. It is also available in JIMS at any time.

When appropriate, the Pretrial Officer will prepare a mental health referral report based on the defendant interview. The referral report is forwarded to the MHMR staff in the jail and a copy is delivered to the court. ■

The department staffs offices at the Central and Southeast Jails of the Houston Police Department, the Harris County Jail Inmate Processing Center and the Probable Cause Courtroom twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week in order to interview defendants as soon after arrest as possible.

HPD is responsible for 52% of arrests of persons charged with new A/B misdemeanor or felony offenses in Harris County and PTS interviews most of them before they are transferred to the Harris County jail.

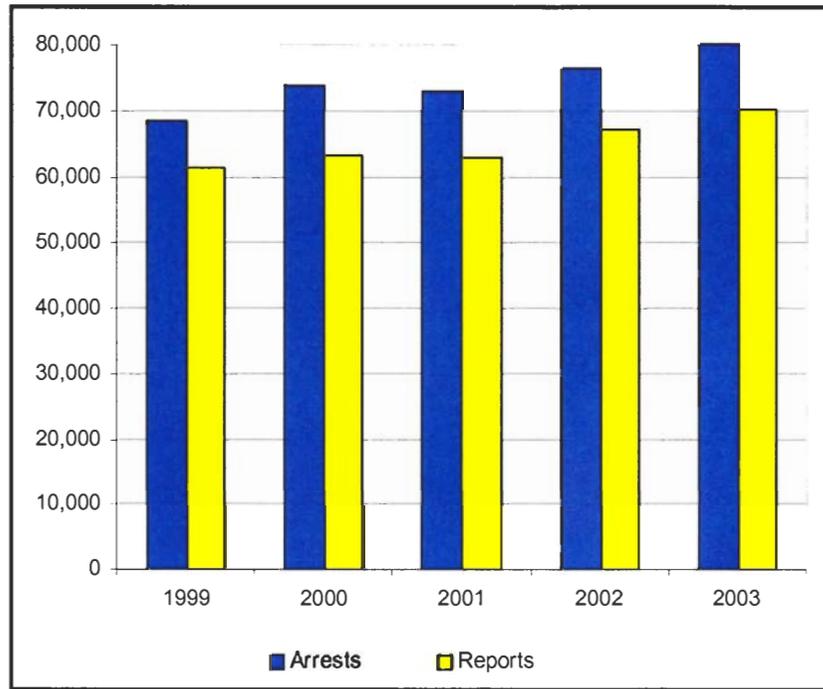

Defendant Report Activity in 2003

Arrests in Harris County for class A or B misdemeanor or felony offenses climbed to almost 80,000 people in 2003, a 4.6% increase over the previous year. Misdemeanor arrests accounted for 61% of the total and felony arrests for 39%.

Pretrial Services compiled reports on 87% of the arrestees, for a total of 70,143 reports. Staff prepared 42,169 reports on defendants arrested for a misdemeanor offense, compiling information on 86% of that population. For those defendants arrested for a felony, the percentage jumped to almost 90%, or 27,974 reports completed.

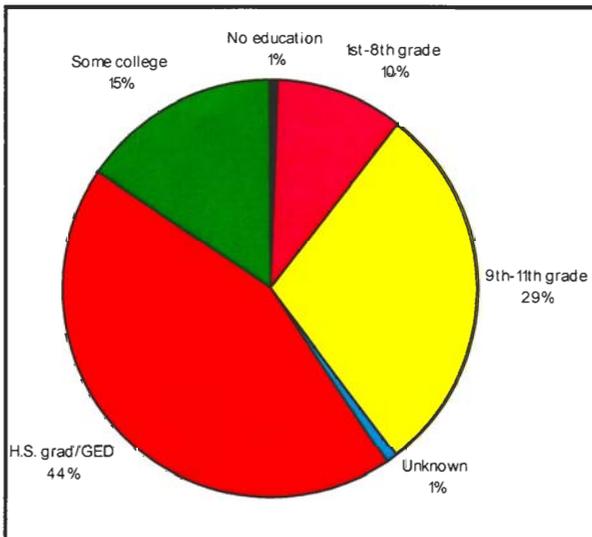

Other defendants interviewed included 283 defendants who had open warrants but were not in custody. Another 1,293 defendants posted a financial bond and were interviewed in order to initiate court ordered supervision, more than double the number in this category in 2002. Abbreviated versions of the defendant report were prepared for 738 defendants who requested an appointed attorney and for 186 defendants ordered to submit to an on-site drug test who did not have a current defendant report compiled.

There is little change from last year in the 2003 report population demographics. The population is 82% male.

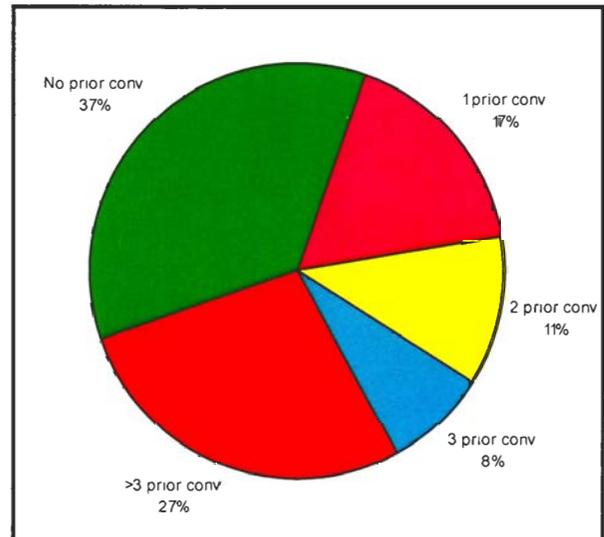

Arrests for a felony or class A or B misdemeanor offense and defendant reports completed over the last five years. Arrests have increased almost 17% in five years and the interview rate has kept pace.

Over 26% of the report group were under 22 years of age. Almost 60% reported that they had at least received a high school diploma or a GED. Those charged with a felony were more likely to have a prior criminal record. ■

Supervision Caseload Review

Pretrial Services added 7,864 new defendants to its caseload in 2003, a 22% increase over 2002. Of those, 4,831 defendants posted some form of financial bond. Another 2,995 defendants were released from jail on a personal bond. The remaining 38 defendants were supervised by order of the court without bail as a factor.

The judiciary placed 5,392 defendants under enhanced supervision, requiring compliance with one or more of the enhanced conditions listed below. This represents a 32% increase from the previous year. Defendants with enhanced conditions accounted for almost 69% of all persons placed in the defendant monitoring program. The remaining 31% were required to comply with the standard supervision conditions. Defendants on financial bond

The number of defendants ordered supervised has been on the increase with the greatest growth in the population ordered to comply with enhanced conditions.

Supervision Services Provide Courts with Options

All defendants supervised by Pretrial Services must check-in regularly by phone and in person, and to notify the office of any changes in their work or residence situations.

On average, 78% of the monthly caseload had one or more additional conditions of release. Screening for drug use was the condition most often imposed. There were 4,638 supervised defendants required to participate in the screening process. Specimens collected rose by 29% to 24,086. Slightly more than 17% of the specimens tested were confirmed positive. Overall, 60% of supervised defendants were screened for drug use. The courts also required 57% of the defendants assigned to Pretrial Services to submit to a substance abuse evaluation.

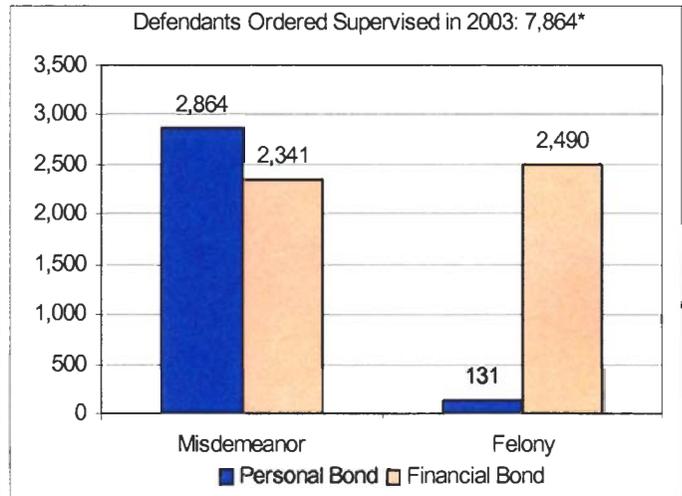

Drug specimen collection increased 29% in 2003 over 2002 and increased over 140% in the last 5 years.

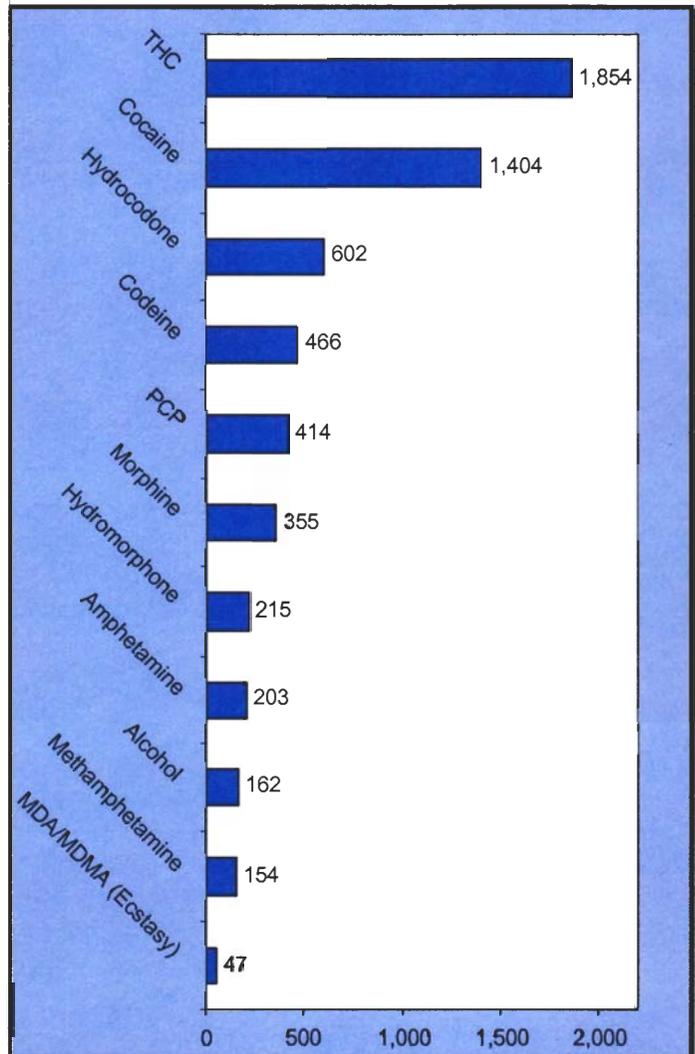

In 2003 Pretrial Services conducted 958 on-site drug screens on 375 defendants. Thirty-five percent of the screens were positive for drug use. The on-site drug screen provides immediate results for five substances. Since the test uses a urine sample, the results can be confirmed by the Medical Examiner if additional testing is warranted. The department also offers the use of a Breathalyzer to detect and measure alcohol use.

The courts ordered 8% of supervised defendants to wear electronic monitoring devices. The device allows Pretrial Services to determine whether a defendant is complying with a court-ordered curfew.

Another 24% of the supervised defendants were required to have an ignition interlock device installed on the vehicle that they drive. In 2003, 1,101 defendants with this condition were supervised. This technology prevents a person from starting the vehicle without providing a deep-lung breath sample that is tested for alcohol. If alcohol is detected in the sample, the vehicle will not start.

* Includes 38 defendants ordered supervised where bail was not a factor.

■ Drug screening results by type of drug detected.

Most Defendants Comply with Supervision Orders, Don't Return to Jail

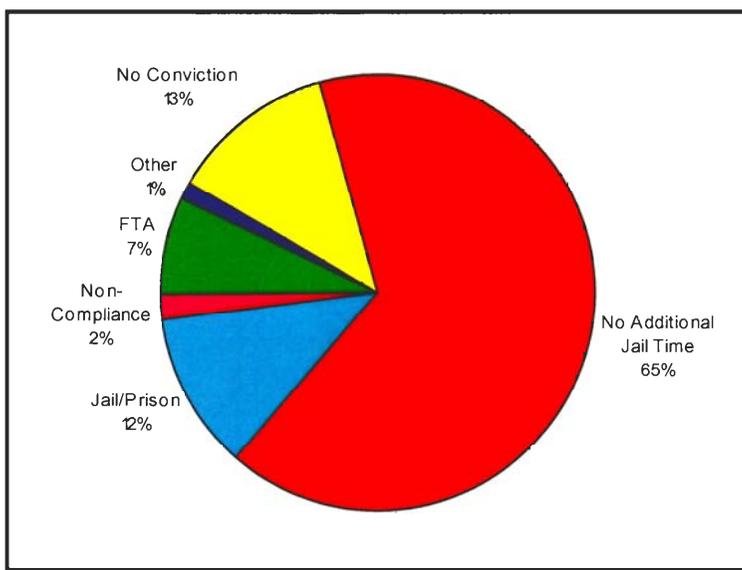

In 2003, 7,320 defendants exited the Pretrial Services supervision program. They included 2,901 defendants on personal bond, 4,386 defendants on financial bond, and 33 people who were not on bond or who had non-Harris County cases.

A review of the 7,287 defendants with a personal or financial bond shows that over 81%, or 5,934 defendants, completed the supervision period and left the program because their criminal case was over. Looking at the 5,934 defendants by offense level, there were 4,428 defendants with a misdemeanor case and 1,506 with a felony case. The dispositions of those with a misdemeanor case saw 67% receive no additional jail time, 22% were jailed, and 11% saw their cases dismissed. Of those charged with a felony, 58% received no additional jail time, 21% were sent to jail or prison, and 21% saw their cases dismissed or no-billed. The most common sentence imposed included some form of probation with 39% of all misdemeanor and 53% of all felony cases resulting in post-trial supervision.

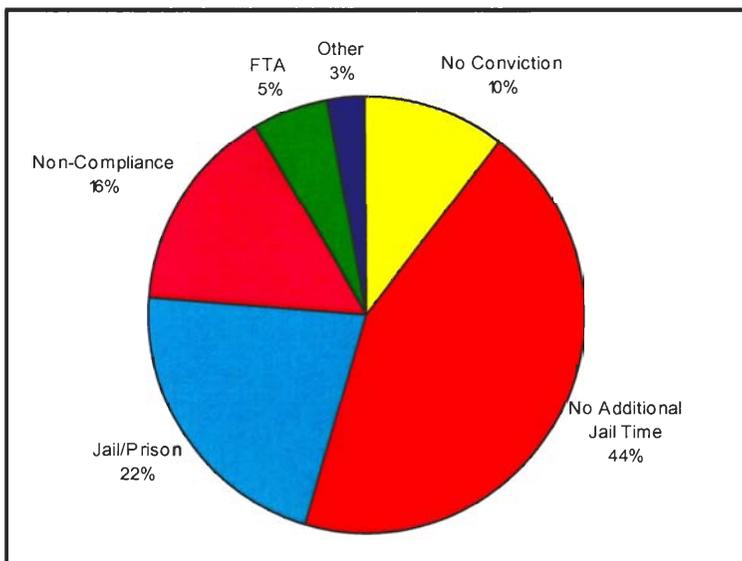

The remaining 19% of defendants whose supervision period ended before the disposition of their criminal cases failed to appear in court when scheduled or did not comply with other supervision conditions. Six percent of the defendants supervised missed a court appearance which resulted in bond revocation or forfeiture. Non-compliance with other conditions of supervision (e.g., refrain from substance abuse and abide by curfew restrictions) accounted for 10% of those who left the program. The remaining 2% left the program for reasons other than non-compliance.

Of the 33 persons with a non-bond or non-Harris County case, 94% successfully completed the supervision period. ■
